Sier suffered serious brain damage as a result of the fight in which he was allegedly kicked in the head several times by a Mt. St. Mary's College student, police said.

The 20-year-old college student from New York City, Stephen G. Murphy, was charged with assault with intent to kill and assault and battery.

HEAT RECORD

Youngsters who received sleds or ice skates for Christmas probably were the most disappointed as the weatherman set a new heat record for Christmas Day in Gettysburg on Friday.

The high here was 66 degrees which made it the warmest Christmas Day in Gettysburg since continuous weather records were begun here 61 years ago.

The nearest approach to that mark came in 1936 when the high was 61 degrees. Other warm Christmases included 57 degrees in 1933, 56 degrees in 1940 and 55 degrees in 1955. The coldest Christmas Day on record here was in 1960 when the low was eight degrees above zero with the ground covered with snow.

JOHNSONS HAD FESTIVE TIME

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) - President Johnson goes back to work on the federal budget today after a festive Christmas with his family.

The decisions still to be made include how much money will be asked for new programs in fields such as education and what the President has termed a "war on poverty."

Budget Director Kermit Gordon said earlier in the week that a series of conferences at the LBJ Ranch here had put the budget for the year starting July 1 "over the hump." Johnson has said he is trying to keep new federal spending below $100

Like millions of other families, the Johnsons admired their gifts Friday, went to church services, visited with old friends and relatives and feasted on or Mrs. Julia Brier, the Christmas of 1849 was almost the supreme test of her faith. Abandoning a broken wagon, she and her husband, their three young sons, and two other men, started walking across Death Valley en route to California.

The three men went ahead in search of water, leaving her with the boys, the oldest of whom was nine. Throughout the long day and night they struggled across the salty wastes, trying to keep the men in view. When Kirk, the youngest, gave out she carried him on her back. She said, "Many times I felt I should faint and as my strength departed I would sink to my knees. But I never lost hope. We needed all our hope and faith."

At midnight she found her husband by a small fire, where he had returned to wait for her. He had found water six miles further on. It was three o'clock on Christmas morning when they reached the springs and the life saving water.

"Oh how good it was," she recalled later, "I have always believed Providence placed it there to save us, for it was in such an unlikely place . . . He was with us that awful night

NOTICE
Take notice that the Adams County National Bank, successor to The First National Bank of Gettysburg, trustee under an inter vivos trust agreement dated March 13, 1961, entered into between Harry F. Shindledecker, donor, reported Dr. Russell.

He said there is other evidence to indicate that the Baltimore findings "can be taken as reasonably representative of the United States as a whole." He offered no views on where the said such people enjoy such a record despite the fact they do not eat the so-called tooth-protective foods, nor brush their teeth.

Russell told about it in a report prepared for the 131st meeting of the American Asso. Illinois newspapers at a transpace of the completed. SPRINGFIELD, Ill. # YOUTHS HELP TO SNARE FBI'S MOST WANTED

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) Running down one of the FBI's "10 most wanted" criminals was as dangerous a game of cops and robbers as has ever been played by a bunch of boys.

One of the dozen boys who pursued Alfred Oponowicz, a fugitive from arrests for counterfeiting and bank robbery, said they did it because, "It was a dead night anyway. We didn't have anything else to do."

That was Arthur Bryant, 16. He and other neighborhood youths had left a dance at public recreation center Wednesday night and were headed home.

WAS SHOT TWICE

One of them, John Peacock, spotted Openowicz, who had been shot twice the night before during a gun battle when he tried to escape from law officers. He was captured and escaped again, this time from a hospital. The fugitive had sworn he would never be taken alive.

Peacock saw part of the stranger's pistol and ran, yelling to his scattering friends. The boys thought it was a joke, at first. But, as they explained, it was a dull night, and if Peacock wanted to play television games they "might as well go along with a gag."

Then Bryant and part of the wool, cotton. gang saw Oponowicz standing atop a railroad overpass a few blocks from the boys' homes. WAS RECOGNIZED

There were reports the divided Christian Democrats might turn to Saragat.

Political sources saw such a move as a way for the Christian Democrats to get around their own intraparty rivalries and mend cracks in Premier Aldo Moro's coalition, seriously weakened by the presidential election.

COFO said that one student. Dick Cooper, tried to follow the car from which the shots were fired. Cooper later was arrested for running a stop sign, a COFO spokesman said.

The other student, Jerry Van Korss, attempted to follow the assailants in another car. He said several shots were fired at his auto and he returned to the Negro home where he had been staying.

The band of white volunteers - mostly students from Oberlin - planned to resume their work of rebuilding the Antioch Baptist Church today following Christmas worship services.

The church was destroyed by fire last Oct. 30 following a civil rights rally.

"Rose Parade Better Every Year," Betty White

By RUTH E. THOMPSON

"It's a wonderful way to cop out of a New Year's Eve party." That's one thing the annual Tournament of Roses means to witty and pretty Betty White who's been doing commentary (via NBC 11:30 to 11:45) for eight years now on the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena that precedes the Rose Bowl Game.

"The people of Pasadena have been doing the parade for 76 years and it seems to me they top themselves every year with the floats, or maybe I just don't remember how beautiful they were last year.

INSPECT FLOATS

"Lorne Greene, whom I just love working with, and I will be visiting the big warehouses where the floats are being readied starting three days before. They have rigid competition and approval systems so that everything ties to the theme for the year. This time the theme is 'Headlines In Flowers.' And do you realize that until they relaxed the rule to permit the use of a little natural bark, every inch of a float had to be covered with either flowers or leaves? You just can't imagine the fragrance . . . or the texture when they apply single rose petals to a surface. It's a kind of unbelievable

"I really love it! Guess I'm brainwashed.

'For me too, it's a vacation. I'd said I'd never live anywhere but California. But that kiddies was before Allen (Ludden) and I got marrie last year. Now I love the East too.

FAMILY SEPARATED

"Of course the bad part is that Allen and I don't get to spend the holiday together . . . but he knew that before he married me . . . and the way it works out he's off doing something else, somewhere else.

Though there's a lot that's different be tween Macy's Thanksgiving Parade and the New Year's Day event, what they do have in common is Betty White and recently Lorne Greene as the other member of the commentator team.

RATES, BOOST

President Johnson has decided to ask Congress for MODEST BOOST higher rates on second and thirdice and postal workers.

The decision on pay increases for Uncle Sam's 2.46 million civilian workers is one of the policy questions still facing Johnson in the final stages of his work on the federal budget.

Budget Director Kermit Gordon said Wednesday that third class volume mailers, but work on the budget was "over legislation is unnecessary the hump." He steered clear of specific figures, but said the Department plans to hire more budget would be "very, very substantially below" the $108.5 billion originally asked by de-partments and agencies for the fiscal year which starts next July 1.

All enlisted men within the Special Forces still are volunteers, however.

The Army said officially that the assignment of nonvolunteer officers was "a matter of policy. This policy has been in effect for a number of years and is followed to provide Special Forces training and experience for a larger group of officers within the Army."

This policy has never been publicized.

FEARED CASUALTIES

Another source said the younger officers in the Army just were not volunteering because "too many have been reading the casualty lists of Special Forces in Viet Nam."

As late as 1960 the men in Special Forces were all volunteers. The Special Forces mission, either behind enemy lines or in counter-guerrilla activities, was considered above and beyond the ordinary call of

This apparently still applies to enlisted personnel.

"Enlisted personnel in operational detachments are volunteers," the Army said. "There has been no difficulty in obtaining volunteers for such assignments."

REQUIRED DUTY

All Army officers are now required to take either ranger -commando-type training - or airborne training, which is ranger plus parachute training.

Special Forces training includes airborne, ranger, guerrilla and counter-guerrilla training plus special courses in working with what the Army calls indigenous personnel.

The Army spokesman said assignment to Special Forces is considered essential to the professional development of officers.

This means that the man who turns down Special Forces work may jeopardize his professional career as a regular officer. Certainly it would have a bearing on selection for promotion.

7,000 IN FORCE

Those in Special Forces now number close to 7,000 although the official strength figure is volunteer outfit, Special Forces probably numbered no more THURSDAY, DECEMBER 31 than 1,800.

Not a nice thing to think about but you could be doing just that if you don't have a regular savings program. Paychecks have a way of disappearing into thin air. And your best intentions to save often get postponed until the "next time around."

But there is an easy and sure way to save called the Payroll Savings Plan. And it works automatically.

You just ask your employer to set aside a small amount from your check each payday to be put toward the purchase of a U. S. Savings Bond.

For example, just $4.33 a week adds up to the $18.75 you need to buy a $25 Bond every month. More than likely you'll forget you even set it aside (a pretty painless way to feather your nest).

This way, those few dollars you never see now will be keeping Junior in tuition and textbooks later. What's more, they'll be working for Uncle Sam to keep the world strong and free for his generation.

So why don't you point your willpower in the right direction! Join the Payroll Savings Plan, and see how you, too, can be a reformed fritteres.
